

One Book

ONE SAN DIEGO

Join One Book, One San Diego and the San Diego County Library for two virtual events with “When Stars Are Scattered” creators

Victoria Jamieson and Omar Mohamed

When: 10 a.m.

Thursday, Nov. 4

What: A question and answer session with the graphic novel creators for teens and tweens

OR

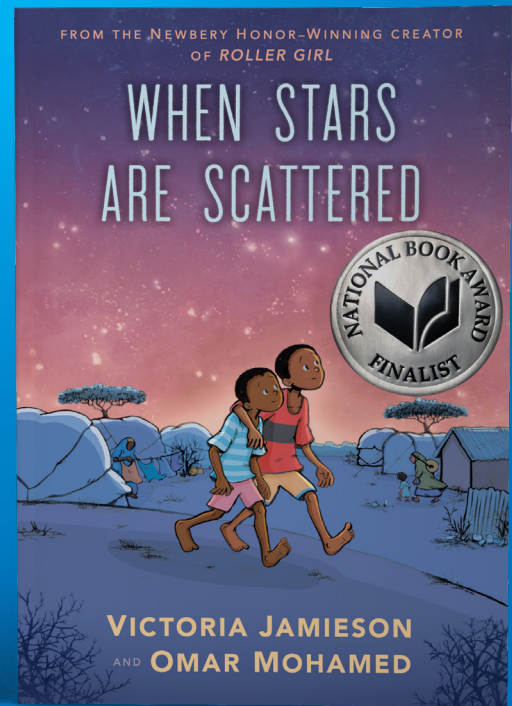

When: 4 p.m.

Thursday, Nov. 4

What: Explore how graphic novels can promote family reading

Join Victoria Jamieson, a Newbery-Honor winner, and Omar Mohamed as they discuss their graphic novel “When Stars Are Scattered.” It is the story of two brothers who spend their young lives in a refugee camp in Kenya. The 10 a.m. event is moderated by the San Diego County Library’s Cassie Koldewyn and geared toward teens and tweens.

The 4 p.m. event is moderated by Little Fish Comic Book Studio Executive Director Alonso Nunez and will discuss how graphic novels can encourage families to read together.

Both events will be streamed on the One Book, One San Diego Facebook page and the KPBS YouTube page.
